

Participant Consent Form

Purpose of this evaluation

As part of my coursework for INM315 Evaluating Interactive Systems, I am conducting research to evaluate the usability of a website. Your participation in this session will help me understand the needs of people using this website in order to inform a redesign. I am solely interested in learning how well the website meets your needs, and in no way testing you.

Screen and audio recording permission

I will capture the screen and our conversation (audio only) to better identify how to improve the website. By signing this consent form, you are giving consent to use your voice, verbal statements, and on-screen activity for the purposes of this evaluation only. The recordings will not be shown to people outside this project/coursework.

Freedom to withdraw

You are free to refuse to participate, take a break, or withdraw from this study at any time. Please let me know if you need a break.

Questions

If you have questions about this session, feel free to ask them.

Your contact details

Please include your name, phone number, and email address. These details will not, in any way, be associated with the recording or any questionnaires. They will be kept in a sealed envelope together with all other consent forms, and submitted to Stephanie Wilson from the Centre for Human-Computer Interaction Design. Consent forms will only be reviewed in case there is doubt about the validity of my data.
